

Hindu Studies Chair Inaugural Lecture

"Let's Talk About Hinduism"

to be given by T.S. Rukmani

"Hinduism is a grand symphony which cannot be fathomed in fragments."

"In Hinduism, the still centre is the unity consciousness, formless, tranquil, beyond all conceptions of the mind, whereas the periphery, the circumference contains all activity, vibrant with movement and change."

Wednesday, April 17, 1996

8:00 p.m.

Room H-110

Hall Building

1455 de Maisonneuve W.

For more information call 848-2065

T. S. RUKMANI holds the Hindu Studies Chair in the Department of Religion at Concordia University. She has a double doctorate and is the only academic in the University of Delhi's Sanskrit Department to be awarded its highest degree of D.Litt. in its more than 70 years of existence. She is recipient of the prestigious Delhi Sanskrit Academy Award for 1992. DR. RUKMANI has published seven books and many research papers on Indian thought.

Concordia
UNIVERSITY